Defendant's motion for summary judgment is fully briefed and has been taken on the papers. On May 25, 2012, Plaintiff filed a motion for judgment. No further opposition or reply is required on this motion. In seven days, Defendant may file an opposition of no more than five pages on new facts or law included in Plaintiff's motion that were not addressed in the briefing on the motion for summary judgment. If Defendant files an opposition, Plaintiff may, four days thereafter, file a reply of not more than three pages, similarly addressing only new facts or law addressed in Defendant's brief. Both motions will be decided on the papers.
